

CHURCH NOTES

Throughout Lent this year we are sharing in a series of reflections with Stephen which are proving to be interesting, thoughtful and thought-provoking. This week's session seemed particularly relevant to our situation, as a URC congregation in Cardiff.

The discussion was centred on our ideas and understanding of 'What is (the) Church?' Stephen gave us seven different statements, with images, describing a view of 'church' and we were asked with which one we most identified. These were: Temple, Pilgrim People, the Body of Christ, a Rock, the Bride of Christ, the Ark of Salvation and the Sacrament of the Life of God – all ideas which have been used through the centuries as descriptions of the Church. Most of us felt some identification with, or attraction to, more than one of these, but the favourites seemed to be the Body of Christ, the Rock and Pilgrim People. Some, though, were not comfortable with any of them! It would be fascinating to explore this further because our understanding of what the Church is, and is about, will be important in our coming explorations of what will happen to ministry in our congregations in Cardiff.

Consultation meetings with the other URC churches in Cardiff took place last week, and Beulah was represented at each by a group of Elders and Stephen Best. It is too early to know what the next steps will be, but we will keep the congregation informed, and Church Meeting will, of course, be the place for full discussion of any recommendations.

What do you think the church is for? Some of us at the Lent discussion group felt it gives us security and comfort at difficult times; others liked

Paul's idea of the Body of Christ, many parts working together, its link to the Last Supper; others related to the pilgrimage idea – people on a journey together, not always knowing the way, but wanting to find out.

We have to think about how we are to continue to be a congregation of God's people, a visible sign of his presence, at a time when the deployment of URC ministry in Cardiff is facing uncertainty, our journey once again, perhaps, bringing us to a crossroads. Let us use our time this Lent to think and pray about what is to come in Beulah, but also pray for the members of all our churches in Cardiff, as they too meet a crossroads in their journeys.

It has been good to see Graffiti Jesus return to our streets through Lent as Big Issue Jesus, patiently standing on our crossroads, daring and challenging us to re-think the big issues of our faith today, reminding us that God is not (only) to be found in Church and that his love is out there, in and with the people on the streets, waiting, raging, healing, dancing and calling. Soon we will make our way through Holy Week, dreading what is to come for Jesus, but daring to hope for Resurrection.

We will hold reflections through the week, and there will hold our usual moving service in the Upper Room on Maundy Thursday. The children will lead us, in a no doubt profound and moving way on Good Friday, and then Easter Day will begin in the garden followed by the Easter Breakfast, and we look forward with hope and joy to our Easter communion service where we will sing out, 'Christ is Risen, Hallelujah!'

Church News

We were sad to learn of the death of Jean Ritchie, who died peacefully in February, and we send our sympathies to Sheena, Moira, Robert and their families. Jean has been a member of Beulah for many years, and will be remembered with affection by many. Her funeral service will be held on February 29 at 3.30pm in Beulah.

Several friends have been unwell, or received hospital treatment this month, and we send our prayers and good wishes to Betty Evans, Mary Bidnell, Ann Stevenson, Mary Edwards, Geoff Williams, Rubina Lewis, Nina Clinch, Geoff Griffiths, Gwladys Brown and Lilian Llewellyn. We also remember those members and friends who are no longer able to come to church due to ill health, and think of them in our prayers.

Congratulations to Keirsten and Steve Eales who celebrated their Pearl Wedding Anniversary this month, and to Marg Jones who recently celebrated a special birthday. We also send birthday wishes to Alun Jones, Ben Wilson, Mike McCarthy and Ann Grimes who will each be celebrating special (although different!) birthdays in March. We also congratulate Eleri Cruchley-Jones who has just celebrated her 21st birthday.

can use to telegraph our values. This is not to limit God as such, but to make the loving of God real. Loving something that is useful and problem solving cannot be love, this is why we can't love God and money. Thus Jesus says to us: Look for me amongst and beyond you.

And so Graffiti Jesus stands at the crossroads, perhaps in his last ever appearance. But he does so reminding us that his appearance is best captured in those who have nowhere to lay their head, whose life is a defiance to poverty and wrong, who struggle to be seen for the people they are rather than the supposed problem they present. And Robert our Big Issue seller stands, like Jesus, on our street bright if in pain, friendly if guarded, with his story to share and his hope for change. And if we respond, there is God amongst and beyond us.

Finally, of course, we send our very best wishes to Lena and Peter who will be celebrating their marriage on March 27. Soon after that, on April 16 we will be holding a party to celebrate Peter's and the family's 15 years among us, followed by his final service on April 17, when we will acknowledge and bless the ministry we have shared together with him over that time.

The Big Fairtrade Breakfast March 13, 2016

'Sit down for breakfast. Stand up for farmers'

This is the slogan for Fairtrade Fortnight this year (February 29-March 13). Churches and other organisations are being encouraged to hold breakfasts using as many fairly traded ingredients as possible to raise awareness and support farmers and workers in many countries in their struggle to provide for themselves and their families.

We will be holding Beulah's Big Breakfast from 9.15am on Sunday March 13 – we will begin with prayers, but feel free to join in at whatever time you can (if that's too early!). We would like this to be a happy, social occasion for all ages, so please sign the list in the porch so that we have an idea of numbers for catering.

We have some recipes for banana muffins, so if you would like to have a go at baking some for the breakfast, please ask Louise Morgan for a copy. Or if you have ideas of your own for baking something suitable for breakfast using fairly traded ingredients, please let Louise know.

We will be registering our event on the Fair Trade Foundation website, where you can see how many other breakfasts are being held throughout the country.

Make Time for Tea

Eleri John and Elaine Edwards are holding a Make time for Tea - morning on March 5th 10.00 to 1.00pm in the Canolfan for the charity - the Eve Appeal - as it will be Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month. There will be a tea, coffee, home made cakes, a raffle and gifts available on the day.

Please come and support us and have a cup of tea/coffee/cake at the same time - we would love to see you.

Faith Matters

During Lent we are meeting weekly and Peter and I are intending that the Sundays will mirror our five themes; information was published last month in Crossroads and flyers are available in the vestibule.

There is a handout for each session. If you cannot make it and would like some of the material then please speak to Peter or to me.

We are committing ourselves as usual to:

1. sharing for no more than an hour & a quarter, followed by a cuppa
2. making a safe space for conversation
3. not assuming anyone present is an expert
4. not judging a viewpoint to be more right than any other
5. not allowing bits of the Bible to boss us about
6. going home having had fun and with our curiosity awakened

If you are interested in reading further and wider, the context for some of the material we are using can be found in:

Beulah Snooker Tournament 2016

Thank you to the players who added their names to the list in the church porch.

The entrants are as follows:

John Prosser, Peter Stevenson, Geoff Griffiths, Andrew Glanfield, and myself.

This year we have departed from the usual knock out format, and will play a 'round robin' format. This means we will all play each other once, and because 'we're none of us competitive', it is expected that "the game will be the winner!" (Winky smiley).

The sequence of matches is as follows:

Match

- 1: Geoff v John
- 2: Peter v Andrew
- 3: John v Colin
- 4: Andrew v Geoff
- 5: Peter v John
- 6: Colin v Andrew
- 7: Geoff v Peter

The final three maybe subject to change of order.

- 8: Geoff v Colin
- 9: John v Andrew
- 10: Peter v Colin

The competition is a series of single matches, best of three frames, and I would ask that the first seven matches are played in the order in which they appear above. Following the conclusion of each match, please would the victorious snooker player telephone one, or both, of the next pair in the list to alert them to arrange the next match. Also, I would be grateful if you could keep me informed of results, so that I can display an up-to-date league table in the church porch.

If the results of the first seven or eight matches, give an indicator as to the possible shape of the league table, it is hoped that we could re-arrange the sequence of the final few matches to keep the

Junior Crossroads Easter Competition

Calling all Beulah kids! We have three Easter competitions for you to enter.

- Primary Department – who can colour the best Easter egg using the template below? Make it as colourful as you like and with any picture that sums up what Easter means to you.
- Junior Department – Juniors' Easter joke competition - what's the funniest joke you know about Easter or springtime?
- Senior Department – Seniors' Easter joke competition - what's the funniest joke you know about Easter or springtime?

Submit your entries to either Gill Edwards or Hollie or Andrew Glanfield either by email or in person. Please include your name and age.

The best entry in each category will win an Easter prize (chocolate related!) and will have their joke or picture in the following edition of Crossroads.

Best Wishes,

Training for Learning and Serving (TLS)

A few people have asked recently what opportunities there are in the URC for training in various areas of church life. Richard and Sarah Edwards are currently taking a TLS course with a view to becoming lay preachers. TLS will be changing over the next few years, but there are other options available involving differing levels of time and commitment. The following paragraph comes from the, and may be of interest:

“A new and exciting opportunity to learn and grow in Christian discipleship is to be launched throughout the United Reformed Church in 2018. In preparation there will be a phase by phase process in which TLS winds down some of what it offers and new transitional opportunities will come into place. The first stage in this process will be that this year (i.e. for the academic year beginning in September 2016) TLS will not enrol any new course members on the Foundation Course.

One year “Gateway” courses on worship, pastoral care, prayer, evangelism, and developing community experiences will continue and will start as usual in September 2016, with a closing date for applications of 31 May.

The Prospectus <http://www.urc.org.uk/discipleship/education-and-learning/training-for-learning-and-serving.html> provides information about these courses and how to go about enrolling on them. Please take a look and see if there is something there for you.

TLS Local Introductory Training Experiences (LITE) offers short courses for local use at any time and can be purchased through United Reformed Church Publications <http://urcshop.co.uk/training/tls-lite-publications>”

The Wedding

People have been very kind offering us congratulations and help for our wedding. We are so touched. The decision to make the wedding independent of the leaving has made things easier to plan. Though we are sad that we cannot make as open an invitation to the reception as we had hoped. Nevertheless there will be a jolly farewell party for us on April 16th. However we are hoping people might be willing to help in practical ways for the wedding. We are making a list of jobs! For example we will need help to set up the Canolfan for the reception and especially to dismantle it. We will need help with producing and collating the order of service. We need pompoms of any colour for table decorations. If you might be able to help in any way could you speak to wedding boss #2 Lesley Richards who will have a list of jobs soon!

15 February 2016

Dear Reverend Cruchley-Jones,

We are just writing to say a massive thank you from all the team here at Cardiff Foodbank to all at Beulah United Reformed Church for your kind support for us over many years. According to our database you have donated 2335.8kg to us over the last 4-5 years and this could be more as our database only goes so far back. The kindness of people like yourselves allows us to continue to help those in crisis across our city and we really coul.dn't do this without you. We understand that it is now easier for your members to donate food at other local, drop-off points and that is very much appreciated. Thank you once again.

Yours sincerely,

Musings of a Ministerial Ordinand

Assignment season is once again upon me. I am currently doing research for an essay on how the structures and theology of the URC help us to stay "reformed and ever reforming" and I've come across some interesting quotes from past reports I thought I would share with you:

"The commission envisaged a range of potential ministries in teams, group pastorates, and ecumenical situations."

"In most churches there are fewer services, fewer flourishing organisations, fewer members to visit, and the church is in touch with a smaller segment of society."

"The reformed conviction that all Christians are 'ministers' had often had to struggle against a 'mystique' of the ministry as a class apart."
"A local church will have to show special justification for maintaining a single pastorate situation."

"As most people are not now within church life, Christians will find more and more that their opportunities of service are away from 'home ground' in the churches."

Alongside these quotes was this comment: "The intellectual argument..... seemed unassailable, but hearts and minds had not been won."

It was sobering to realise that these words are forty years old, yet they still have a very real ring of truth to them and seem so terribly relevant all of a sudden! By the time you read this, the Cardiff URC churches will have come together for an important meeting, called by our Moderator, to consider our way forward, because of the real lack of available ordained ministers.

I hope we manage to do more than repeat what was said in the 1970's, not only for me to be positive in my essay, but so that we find the way to reform and become the future of the URC in Cardiff.

My word of the month is hope.

KIN - Together

At our KIN meeting last month we urgently discussed how we in Beulah could find a way to help the plight of refugees in Europe. We have already had collections for the Red Cross and UNICEF, but we wondered if there was a more practical way we could help. Shortly afterwards we heard of the Refugee Community Kitchen and its links to Cardiff.

Steve Garrett, who founded Riverside Community Market in 1998, had been to Calais and Dunkirk along with a friend Ben Moss who runs a stall at the market. They had decided to collect food and money at the market each week, and then to deliver the food to France in support of the Refugee Community Kitchen.

Steve says, "We are not a political organisation, we are just human beings helping other human beings People have been incredibly generous. Companies are interested in what we are doing and they have been donating food and money, as well as people in the community."

This seemed the perfect opportunity for Beulah to get involved and to help in some practical way.

We will be collecting the following food items on Sundays 6th and 13th March, and the money raised at the Easter Breakfast will be donated to the RCK.

Tinned Items: Tomatoes, Tomato Puree, Tuna, Sardines, Kidney Beans, Chick Peas
Other Items: Tea, Coffee, Lentils, Basmati Rice, Raisins, Sultanas.

The money collected will go towards:

- food for the kitchens and food distribution
- gas for the cooking stoves
- creating and equipping community kitchens

- maintaining the vehicles used for food distribution.

In response to an email I sent, I received the following information about the RCK...

REFUGEE COMMUNITY KITCHEN is a grassroots charity creating food projects for refugees in Europe.

We came together in the autumn of 2015, with our collective experience in catering, chef-ing and production industries, to create a kitchen to provide healthy, hot meals for the refugees in Europe throughout the winter and beyond. As a group we have felt compelled to be pro-active to ease the suffering that we have witnessed on our doorstep. We feel that food not only nourishes but also has the power to lift the spirits and connect people in times of severe hardship.

Initially, we raised money for essential equipment and transport costs and built an off-site industrial-sized kitchen to support the existing kitchens and other community projects in the Calais Jungle. After an incredible response we are now up and running with a fully-established kitchen wholly staffed by volunteers who create over 2000 meals a day with food that is largely donated.

We have also created a strong food distribution system that sends out packages daily to the refugees in both Calais and Dunkirk.. These give individuals and families the ingredients they need to cook for themselves which not only provides meals but also much needed dignity throughout the different communities living side by side in the camps.

Additionally, we have created five community kitchens in the camps for people to cook their own food. These kitchens have been placed in areas where we found people that, for many reasons, would not come forward to the hot food distribution points. Our aim is to create as many of these community kitchens as needed with the hope of creating a focal point for people to come together and cook the food that they need most.

Our projects are on-going and will be adapted to fit the demand of this very new and ever-changing situation in Europe. As there are no signs of resolution in the near future, our next imminent project is to create mobile industrial kitchens to support the needs of refugees further afield in Europe

Up to now we have had extraordinary support from wholesalers, head chefs, donors and volunteers but our financial, equipment and food needs to keep the current projects afloat are large and on-going.

We hope this letter explains what we are achieving and inspires you to get involved further.

Thank you for your time and obviously any support you can offer us will be more than appreciated and can (if you wish) be promoted on our social media, we currently have 8000+ followers on Facebook & Twitter.

Facebook: www.facebook.com/groups/RefugeeCommunityKitchen
Twitter: @RefugeeCKitchen

The RCK is now expanding into the camp in Dunkirk, and the following is taken from one of their latest postings online

On to the next phase in this humanitarian crisis... DUNKIRK..... We now have the opportunity to extend the successful self catering model of community kitchens and communal spaces in the new camp in Dunkirk. This camp will be set up by MSF (Medicines Sans Frontier) and is due to open in early March. The camp will house 2500 refugees from 5+ nations and is being built now. MSF are working very closely with a number of volunteer groups to help make this camp work for the refugees who will be living there until they find refuge and can start to try and live a normal life again.

R.C.K / F.Y.P (Refugee Community Kitchen / Future Youth Project) together with ABC (Aid Box Convoy) and AIA (Artists in action) have designed and will be constructing and managing the new kitchens and communal seating spaces. We now have this great opportunity to make a big difference from the start by building spaces where the residents can cook for themselves and their families, and have a space where they can sit and eat. We will be building 5 male/mixed communal kitchens / communal areas seating over 100 people each and 6 x Women's seating over 40 people each. There will be 40 x Rocket Stoves and 12 big outdoor burners to heat the communal spaces.

We will be needing more vehicles and infrastructure for this next stage.. so we need your help again. Please support our efforts by registering your interest in getting involved. Be it by coming with your building skills and tools when we need you, donations of the items we need to build/cook or by simply donating your hard earned money. With the love and efforts of many we shall help achieve dignity and full bellies..

KIN at Easter

As is our custom, and as you are able, we invite you to put aside money during Lent as part of our Alms Bowl collection. Money raised will be collected at our Easter Morning worship.

Good Friday Family Lunch

Please come and join us for a Bread and Cheese Lunch in the Canolfan after the service at 12 noon on Good Friday.

This is a family meal and all are very welcome.

Money raised will go to Medecins Sans Frontieres (Doctors Without Borders)

- a charity at the forefront of work with refugees across Europe.

Easter Breakfast

If you would like to share in the Easter Breakfast, which follows a short act of worship in the garden at 8.45 am on Easter Morning, there will be a list in the porch for you to sign.

Once again, all are warmly invited. Money raised will go to the Refugee Community Kitchen.
